PERSONAL DATA

To order the Products, the Buyer may be required to communicate some personal data on certain natural persons in charge of the order (name and email). The Seller undertakes to guarantee the confidentiality of the personal data of these persons, and the compliance of any potential transfers outside the European Union.

The Seller also undertakes not to keep these data for more than 7 (seven) years. When the retention period comes to an end, the Seller shall keep data subject to archiving, whether due to a legal or regulatory obligation, or in accordance with applicable limitation rules, on a separate medium, and undertakes to delete the data following this archival period.

During the execution of the order, Legrand may be required to transfer data to other Group entities and/or service providers (such as the shipping company). The Legrand Group undertakes to put in place contractual guarantees in order to ensure data confidentiality, in particular when data is transferred outside of the European Union.

The Seller has appointed a Data Protection Officer that can be contacted at:

nl-vmi-sm-avg-contact@minkels.com.

Natural persons have the right to decide and control the use of personal data concerning them, including after their death. They have therefore a right of access, rectification and deletion of personal data. They have the right to obtain the restriction of processing as well as the right to object to processing of their personal data. The data communicated to Legrand by natural persons are necessary for the execution of the order. If the persons object to the data processing, it will be impossible for Legrand to process the order. Natural persons may request that their personal data is sent to them in a structured, commonly used format.

To exercise any of these rights, they may at any time send their request:

- By post to: Minkels B.V., Data Protection Team, Eisenhowerweg 12, 5466 AC Veghel, The Netherlands;
- By email to : nl-vmi-sm-avg-contact@minkels.com

The request will be treated within one month of receipt. If needed, that period may be extended by two further months, in view of the complexity and number of requests. In that case, the person shall be informed of the extension and the reasons for the delay within one month of receipt of the request.

No payment shall be required in order to exercise these rights, except in the event of a clearly unfounded or excessive request. In such a case, Legrand also reserves the right to refuse to process the request.

If the person is not satisfied with the manner in which their request was processed, the Seller invites the person to contact it at the following email address: nl-vmi-sm-avg-contact@minkels.com. In the event that the person remains dissatisfied with its response, the Seller reminds the person that they have the right to lodge a complaint with the Dutch Data Protection Authority (Autoriteit Persoonsgegevens): <https://autoriteitpersoonsgegevens.nl/>.
